MACOMBER

The tradition is current in almost all the branches of the Macomber family that their first American ancestors were of Scotch origin. Hence some, after the family had been a century and a half or more in America, changed the spelling of the name to McComber, McCumber, McOmber and McUumber. There is evidence, however, that the ancestors knew how to spell their name when they came to this country, and they spelled it Macomber, as many signatures witness.

How was the name pronounced? The records of Plymouth Colony for fifty years have the name "Maycumber," and so it has been pronounced to this day by the descendants of John Macomber of Taunton. Many of the descendants of William Macomber of Marshfield, pronounce the name Mac'-om-ber. This may have been suggested by the supposed Scotch origin, Mac, son of Comber, Kumber, or Uumber.

Some have wanted a coat-of-arms and have been easily satisfied with one supplied by the artists. An artist in Troy, N. Y., some years ago got up a coat-of-arms to order, a blue shield with a yellow cross of St. George. The crest was a cat sejant, with the motto, "Touch not the cat bot a glove." The shield had as supporters the flags of Scotland and of the United States, and the astonishing statement was made by the artist, that the coat-of-arms was granted in the year 1004 for distinguished services to the King of Scotland and that the first of the Macomber name was a crusader. This clumsy forgery needs no refutation. The crest is that of the family McCombie. It is not worth while to determine where the "artist" stole the rest of it.

Under date of 3 Apr., 1882, Charles A. Macomber of Cochesett, Mass., wrote to Chandler F. Macomber of West Chesterfield, Mass., as follows:

It is now thirty-five or more years, since I became acquainted with a gentleman from England, an artist, who for a favor bestowed copied from one of the many books he owned on Heraldry the Macomber coat-of-arms, which he presented to me. As an explanation for the drawing the following words were printed,—"The family of Macomber is stated by McPherson, in his history of the Clans, to be of the McKonnochie branch of the clan of Campbells. Archibald Campbell McKonnochie of Komber saved the life of King Robert the Second of Scotland by shooting an arrow through the head of a wild boar, then attacking him, when the king gave him the Crest the family bear in memory of the act, and the family changed the name to Macomber."

The arms were described as follows: "Arms, Argent, three dexter hands couped at the wrist, holding bunches of arrows, all proper, in chief, and in base the Imperial Crown of Scotland. Crest, a boar's head erased, having an arrow through it, of the proper colors. The arms are surrounded by a bordure of those of Campbell, viz.—gyrony of eight, Or and Sable. Motto, He hath sent and he hath rewarded."

This coat-of-arms has been widely copied, the only change being the substitution of a Latin motto, His nitimur et munitur, perhaps the original of the attempted translation above. If anyone will take the trouble to look in "An Ordinary of Arms Contained in the Public Register of All Arms and Bearings in Scotland," by James Balfour Paul, Edinburgh, 1893, it will there be seen that the above coat-of-arms belongs to the Maconochie family of Meadowbank and that it dates from 1819. A score of families have a boar's head for a crest. This "artist," too, has stolen a coat-of-arms from one family and a crest with slight modification from another. The combination he has sent to the Macombers of the United States as the arms of their ancestor, with a fanciful story about Robert the Second, who died in the year 1390.

As for McPherson's History of the Clans, I can find no evidence that any such book ever existed. There is a McPherson's "Sketches of the Clans," published some years after the artist wrote the above. It says nothing whatever about the Macomber family, neither can I find the name in any book of heraldry found in the libraries of Boston, or in the British Museum, London. It is reasonable to conclude that the Maconiber family never had a coat-of-arms. It has gotten along in America very well without such an emblem of aristocratic rank.

The evidence is convincing that William and John Macomber came from Devonshire, England, or vicinity, along with the other settlers of Plymouth and Bristol Counties, Mass. The emigrants brought with them the very names of the towns from which they came, Plymouth, Taunton, Tiverton, Dartmouth, Falmouth, Barnstable, Truro, Weymouth, Plympton, Bridgewater, Dorchester, all found in the southwestern part of England. Historians tell us that there were no Scotch nor Irish among those first settlers. The parish registers of Devonshire would probably tell much about the Macomber family. From the few books accessible I have gleaned the following interesting items.

Sept. 14, 1611, Thomas Macumber of St. Martin, Exeter, and Thomasine Staplehill of St. Stephen in the said city. See Marriage Licenses of the Diocese of Exeter, p. 24.

John Force of the city of Exeter, gent, bachelor, about 24, and Anne Macomber, of same, spinster, about 22, her parents dead—at Harpford or Ailesboro, said County Devon, 24 Dec. 1667.—See London Marriage Licenses.

Harpford and Aylesboro are small villages, near the fine church of Ottery St. Mary, about eight or nine miles easterly from Exeter.

John Adams of Staverton licensed, Nov. 27, 1615, to marry Thomasine Macombe.—Marriage licenses of Exeter, Eng. p. 47.

Nov. 6, 1676, George Stoning of the city of Exeter, grocer, bachr, about 28, and Elizabeth Macumber of the same, spr, about 25, at own disp. alleged by Edward Willoughby of St. Sepulchre's, Cornhill, London, Druggist, at St. Peter's, St. Davis, or St. Paul, in the city of Exeter.—See Allegations for Marriage Licenses issued by the Vicar General of the Archbishop of Canterbury, published by the Harleian Society, p. 101.

The Calendar of Devonshire Wills shows that Thomas Macomber of Exeter made his will in 1697.

It has been learned through a genealogist in Devonshire that the inventory of Thomas Macomber of Exeter was recorded in 1621. He left a widow Jane. "He was a grocer in a large way of business, leaving property in Ireland."—"I found a family of Meacomb and Macomber in the vicinity of Ashburton and Totnes. The dates range from 1590 to 1630 and the names are Walter, Christopher, Gregory, Margaret and Edmund."

These items point to Devonshire, England, as the home of the ancestors of the Macomber family in America. The spelling of the name was there as well as here, Macomber and Macumber.

It is noticeable that Thomasine Macombe, widow probably of Thomas Macumber, married John Adams. Combe in old English means a valley and is a very frequent termination of surnames and names of places in Devonshire. There may have been a Maycombe, just as there was a May Hill and a Mayfield. Indeed a place called Maycomb is found in Wexford, Ireland. A place called Maycombe, Macombe, may have given origin to the surname Maycombe, Macombe, Maycomber, Macomber, Macumber. The Macomers may have originated in some place called May Valley.

Others insist that the name is of Scotch origin and that some migration carried the name into Devonshire. I am informed that Harry Alfred Long's Personal and Family Names, published by John Menzie & Co., Edinburgh, 1883, derives the names McComb, McCombe, McCoombe, McComber, and McCumber from the Gaelic "Omish" (Thomas) and that other forms of the same name are McOmish, McTavish and McTanse. A Memoir of the Families of McCombie and Thoms, originally McIntosh and McThomas, by William McCombie Smith, Edinburgh, 1890, says that McThomie, McHomie, McOmie, McOmish, McOmy, McComie, McCombie and Thoms, McThomas and McIntosh, all are names used to designate members of the same clan. Antiquarians seem to agree that the McIntosh clan are a branch of the clan Chattan and that the McCombie family are a branch of the clan McIntosh, taking its rise in the latter half of the fourteenth century. It is claimed that the founder of the clan McIntosh was Shaw McDuff, second son of the fifth Earl of Fife, who distinguished himself in quelling a rebellion among the Moray tribes against Malcolm IV., about the years 1161-63.

In 1904 Dove, Lockhart and Smart, lawyers of Edinburgh, wrote to Charles Sumner Macomber, lawyer of Ida Grove, Iowa, as follows:

Judging from your name we should say you were undoubtedly a Scot by origin. The name "Macomber," in its various forms, "McCoombe," "McCumber," "Macomber," "McOmish," "McCombie" is well known here. As you are no doubt aware it is claimed (and the claim we believe is generally admitted) that the Maccombers are a branch of the clan McIntosh—also sometimes called the Shaws. The branch was founded by Shaw McDuff, second son of the fifth Earl of Fife. As you are also no doubt aware the clan McIntosh was one of the clans which took part in the memorable duel on the North Inch of Perth. Vide Scott's "Fair Maid of Perth," where they are designated the "Clan Chattan." You will also see in Scott's "Waverly" that a scion of the clan, "Evan Dhu Maccombish," is one of the leading personages.

John Macomber of Taunton

AND HIS DESCENDANTS

The old tradition concerning "three brothers" who came to America seems to be verified in the case of the Macomers, for William was in Duxbury in 1638; Thomas in Plymouth in 1643; and John in Taunton in 1643. No descendants of Thomas have been found. Those of William are numerous.⁴ The descendants of John are traced here.

John Macomber was admitted as a freeman and enrolled in the militia of Taunton in 1643. He was granted permission to build a mill in Taunton in 1659. There were then four persons in his family, and there is no record of more. The name of his first wife has not been learned. He married, 7 Jan. 1686, as his second wife, Mary Babcock. He was in a military company in 1680. He was living in 1687, as shown by a deed. Another deed shows that he died before 1690. He was a carpenter by trade. His property was equally divided between a daughter, Mary Staples, and a son, John Macomber.

John Macomber, 2d, signed a deed with his father in 1672, showing that he was then of age. He served in military companies in 1680 and 1700 and also in Queen Anne's War in 1691. He married, 16 July 1678, Anna Evans, daughter of William and Ann (Hailstone) Evans of Taunton.

William Evans was enrolled in the militia of Taunton in 1643 and took the oath of fidelity there in 1657. He married Ann Hailstone, probably daughter of William Hailstone, who was one of the first purchasers of Taunton in 1637 and was living there in 1672. The inventory of the estate of William Evans was made 16 Sept. 1671. He left daughters Mary and Anna.

June 28, 1723, John Macomber, "oldest of that name in Taunton," and Anna his wife sold to their son Thomas land in Taunton on "Mill River,"—See County Records at Taunton, XVI.51.

Jan. 5, 1724-5, Anna Macomber, "for good cause," sold to her son Thomas land in Taunton. Her husband was then dead.

The rights of her grandsons, Abiel and William, are protected in this deed. See Deeds at Taunton, XVI.52.

July 7, 1725, Anna Macomber, widow, sold to her son Thomas all undivided lands descended to her from her father, William Evans deceased and from her mother Ann Hailstone deceased.—See Deeds at Taunton, XVI.178.

March 20, 1681, Mary and Anna Evins, heirs of William Evins deceased, sold land to J. French for sixty pounds. Following the date the deed says, "It is always to be understood that though the abovesaid Anna is Anna Macomber by her marrying of John Macomber, Jr., but when this abovesaid bargain was made her name was Anna Evins." See Deeds at Taunton, XXVII.128.

Jan. 29, 1700-1, John Macomber, "son of John Macomber late of Taunton deceased," sold land to Nathan Walker.—See deeds at Taunton, XVI.326.

Dec. 6, 1721, John Macomber sold to his son Samuel for £300 the house that Samuel was living in, also other lands except one tract lying within the bounds of said lands known as the "old Beaver dam," also one-half his right in the saw mill on said land, also " $\frac{1}{4}$ of a purchase right in the old township of Taunton," also one-half his right in Middleboro 16 shilling purchase. See Deeds at Taunton, XIV.84.

Feb. 15, 1724-5, John Macomber and Samuel Macomber quit-claimed to Thomas Macomber all right to their father John Macomber's property other than that which he had given them by deed. See Deeds at Taunton, XVI.47.

The will of John Macomber is dated 22 Jan. 1721-2 and was probated 21 Oct. 1725. In it he names wife, children Thomas, John, William and Samuel, and grandchildren Abiel, William, Anna and Sarah. John Macomber is mentioned as deceased in a deed dated 5 Jan. 1724-5. His four sons lived in Taunton.

JOHN MACOMBER (John², John¹), born, 18 March 1681 in Taunton, was impressed as a soldier in Queen Anne's War 22 Dec. 1701, and again 26 June 1711. He married (1) 17 March 1707, Elizabeth, daughter of Nathaniel and Elizabeth (Rogers) Williams, who was born in Taunton 18 April 1686, and died 2 May 1732. She was granddaughter of Richard Williams, called the "Father of Taunton," whose wife was Frances, daughter of John and Jane (Basset) Deighton; also granddaughter of John and Ann (Churchman) Rogers and great-granddaughter of Thomas Rogers who came in the Mayflower.

John Macomber married (2), 12 July 1733, in Raynham, Mass., Mrs. Lydia (King) Williams, widow of Nathaniel Williams. She died 31 March 1748. John Macomber died in Taunton, Mass., 14 Dec. 1747.

His will, dated 28 Dec. 1742, was probated 5 April 1748. It names wife Lydia and children Nathaniel, Josiah, John, James, Elijah, Joseph, Elizabeth Rounsevell, Abia and Anna. His son Elijah inherited the homestead in East Taunton.

Jan. 5, 1732, John Macomber of Taunton deeded to his son Nathaniel one-third of his home farm, one corner being at the saw mill. The same day he gave to son Josiah one-third of the same farm. The burial ground, where rest the early generations of Macomers, is on Staples Street not far from the Macomber farm.

The record of the family of John Macomber has been preserved in a branch of his descendants now living in Augusta, Maine. It was, perhaps, copied from the records of Taunton before they were destroyed by fire in 1848. His children, all by the first marriage, were:

10. NATHANIEL b. 9 Feb. 1709; m. Priscilla Southworth.

WILLIAM MACOMBER (John², John¹), born in Taunton 31 Jan. 1683; married, 3 January 1705-6, Sarah Holloway. He was impressed as a soldier 7 June 1711. He died about 1715, and there is no later record of his wife. His father's will names four children of his son William, viz., Abiel, William, Anna and Sarah. Dec. 3, 1760, there was a division of land left by Elizabeth Williams, wife of Jonathan Williams and daughter of Thomas Leonard, Esq., late of Taunton, between her children, one of whom was Abiah, wife of Abiel Macomber.—See Deeds at Taunton, XLVII.17.

March 20, 1730-1, Sarah Macomber, daughter of William Macomber deceased, above fourteen years of age, chose her brother Abiel for guardian to act in settlement of her father's estate and of her brother William's estate, who died intestate without issue.

Sept. 8, 1735, Jonathan Hoar petitioned the court to appoint a guardian for his daughter Anna, who was then seven years old and had a claim on the estate of John Macomber through her mother.

The children of William and Sarah (Holloway) Macomber were:

SAMUEL MACOMBER (John², John¹), born in Taunton, appears as grantee and grantor of land in Taunton from 1721 to 1734. He was probably living in 1754, when Samuel Macomber, Jr., of Berkeley, received a deed of land in Rehoboth. He probably married Sarah, dau. of Isaac and Alice (Chartley?) Pierce of Middleborough. Isaac Pierce, born in 1661, died in Lakeville, Mass., 28 Feb. 1731-2, in the 71st year of his age, son of Abraham and Abigail (Peterson) Pierce and grandson of Abraham Pierce of Plymouth. His will, 1722, names a daughter, Sarah Macomber, who can be accounted for only as wife of Samuel Macomber.

The following were probably children of Samuel Macomber. There may have been also daughters.

16. SAMUEL b. about 1721; m. Zipporah Crane, 5 April 1750.

LT. JOSEPH MACOMBER (John³, John², John¹), was born in Taunton 28 March 1732. His mother died five weeks after his birth. He married, 16 March 1762, Thankful, daughter of Capt. William and Elizabeth (Eaton) Canedy of Taunton, Mass. Through her mother she was descended from Francis Eaton, Samuel Fuller and John Billington, all of the Mayflower.

Joseph Macomber appears with rank of Corporal in Captain Thomas Cobb's Co., Col. John Winslow's Regiment, engaged for the defence of the eastern Frontiers. Mustered at Castle Island, 21 June 1754.—Mass. Archives, Vol. 93, p. 140.

He appears on a muster roll dated 31 Jan. 1759 of a company of foot in his Majesty's service under Capt. Job Winslow in Col. Jedediah Preble's Regiment, raised by the province of Massachusetts Bay for the reduction of Canada. Town, Taunton, quality, first Lieut. Entered service 13 March and served till 13 Nov. Length of service 8 Mos. 22 days. Days travel, 15.—Mass. Archives, Vol. 96, p. 472.

He appears on a muster roll dated Boston, Dec. 13, 1760, of a company in his Majesty's service under command of Capt. John Taplin. Quality, Lieut. Residence, Taunton. Entered service Mar. 31, 1759. Served until Nov. 21, 1760. Length of service, 21 months, 14 days. Company at Fort Cumberland.—Mass. Archives, Vol. 98, p. 213.

He appears in a list of officers and privates brought as passengers on board the sloop "Prosperous," John Bragdon, master, from Fort Cumberland Chignecto to Boston. Rank, Lieut. Account of Bragdon for the passage money dated Nov. 24, 1760.—Mass. Archives, Vol. 97, p. 434 A.

Joseph Macomber was Lieut. in Capt. Abiel Pierce's Company of Minute Men, that responded to the "Alarm," 19 April 1775. Time of service, two days. He was Sergeant in Capt. Levi Rounseville's Company, Col. D. Brewer's Regiment, enlisting 5 May 1775 and serving three months and four days. He was commisisoned Lieut. in Capt. Edward Seagrovy's Company, 13th Regiment, commanded by Col. Joseph Read, 8 Jan. 1776, by order of Congress, signed by John Hancock, President. So read his commission, which I remember distinctly to have seen. It was preserved for more than a century in the family of his grandson, Leonard Macomber of Durham, Maine, but was accidentally destroyed.

A deed at Plymouth, Mass., dated 25 Feb. 1800, shows where Joseph Macomber lived. "Joseph Macomber and Elijah Macomber 2d and Abraham Miller and Thankful Miller his wife and Isaac Thomas 2d and Judith Thomas his wife and Olive Macomber, Loraney Macomber and Hannah Macomber, and all of the town of Middleborough—to William Rounsville of Middleborough certain property known as Assawampsett Neck, land we own as heirs to our deceased father Joseph Macomber by name,—all the aforesaid forty-fifth and forty-sixth lots we hold as heirs to our deceased mother Thankful Macomber by name," to have and to hold, etc.,—"and that part of the 28th and 29th lots of land that our deceased father holds by deed under the hand and seal of Benjamin Booth deceased."

Joseph Macomber lived in that part of Middleborough which is now Lakeville, on a neck of land between two lakes. The house in which he and also his son Joseph lived is still standing. He and his wife and daughter, Lurana (Sanderson), are buried in the "Old Pond Cemetery," on the border of the lake in Lakeville. The tombstone of his wife is broken and the inscription can not be read. The inscription on his tombstone is as follows:

*In memory of Lieut. Joseph Macomber who Died Janry 25 1800
in his 68th year.*

Joseph Macomber's children are recorded on the leaf of an old diary, still preserved and in the possession of the writer of this. The record seems to have been made by himself between the years 1780 and 1788. It may have been brought from Middleborough to Durham, Me., in an old writing-desk still kept.

William Macomber of Marshfield

AND HIS DESCENDANTS

"Will'm Maycumber, of Dorchester, cooper, is lycensed to dwell within this gov'ment, at Plymouth or elsewhere, upon the testimony of his good behavior hee hath brought with him." Plymouth Colony Records, Vol. I. p. 82.

This is the first mention of William Macomber in America. The testimony of good behavior is likely to have been obtained from the person with whom he served his apprenticeship in learning the trade of a cooper. The date of the above record is April 2 1638.

Under date of Sept. 3, 1638, are found the following records:

"Will'm Maycumber, a cooper, is graunted an island lying on the north side Powder Poynt, & containing about three or four acres of land, provided that the committees of Duxborrow doe consent thereunto, and that he doe not stop the townes cattle from the fresh water thereupon," and "Liberty is graunted to Will'm Maycumber, cooper, to fetch tymber to make hoopes of for vessels for the colonies use at Clarks Island and Sagaquash." Plymouth Colony Records, Vol. I. p. 95.

Aug. 3, 1640, "Will'm Maycumber is granted the wood fitt for coopery growing upon Wood Island, to be used by him so long as he followeth his trade, and forbidding all others to cutt there except for the loading of boats and vessells to carry away the hay." Plymouth Colony Records, Vol. I. p. 159.

He settled in Marshfield, Mass. In 1644 he was fined for speaking against the Indians. He was a surveyor in Marshfield in 1653.

A sworn statement, made March 1, 1655, gives his age as 45 years. He was, therefore, born in 1610. Tradition says that he was brother to John Macomber of Taunton. In favor of this is the following:

"Aug. 20, 1644, William Maycumber of Duxborrow——— sent forth to bring in John Macomber for non-appearance for making allarum at Taunton." See Proprietors' Records at Taunton.

A bond of administration on the estate of the late William Macomber of Marshfield was given, June 6, 1670, by Ursilla Macomber, widow, of Marshfield, Thomas Macomber of Taunton, cooper, and Matthew Macomber of Marshfield.

In December, 1675, Mathew Macomber of Taunton, son of William deceased, being twenty-five years of age or thereabouts, made his will, giving all his real estate to his loving brother, John Macomber, twenty shillings to his honored mother, ten shillings to his brother, Thomas Macomber, and ten shillings apiece to all his sisters unnamed. John Macomber, Jr., was witness. Thomas Macomber made oath to the inventory of Matthew Macomber's estate in 1676. See Probate Records at Plymouth, Mass.

The farm occupied by William Macomber is still in the possession of the Macomber family, being owned by his descendant of the ninth generation, Herbert Israel Macomber. The original house was a garrison house for protection against the Indians, the ends being brick and the rest of wood. It was burned about the time of the Revolutionary War. It stood very near to the house now occupied by the widow of Israel Hatch Macomber, which is the nearest house to the Railway Station at Marshfield Hills. The land extended down to the Bay and included the small island above mentioned.

It is probable that the early generations of Marshfield Macombers were buried not far from the house where they lived, and near to a tomb built by William Macomber (1748-1815). This is south from the house above mentioned a short walk and on the opposite side of the road.

It appears that William Macomber of Marshfield, born in 1610, died about 1670, that he had wife named Ursilla and children above named. From varied sources have been gathered the names of several daughters and their marriages. That they belonged to William Macomber's family is an almost necessary inference.

SECOND GENERATION

JOHN MACOMBER (William¹), born in Marshfield, Mass., is often mentioned in the history of Taunton and is called in deeds "John Macomber the cooper" to distinguish him from other John Macomers. He married Hannah, daughter of Edward Bobbit, who was born 9 March, 1660. Edward Bobbit was an original settler in Taunton and took land in the South Purchase, now Berkley. During the Indian War he was obliged to flee to the block house in Taunton and was killed by Indians while returning to his farm. He married, 7 July 1654, Sarah, daughter of Miles Tarne of Boston, Mass.

July 23, 1684, John Macomber of Taunton, cooper, acknowledged that his wife Hannah, a sister of Edward Bobbit, received her part of her father's estate by a deed of land "down Taunton River," being lot No. 1, near Little River.—See Deed at Taunton, III. 574.

John Macomber was a soldier in King William's War in 1691. He made his will, "being aged," 29 June, 1716. He was living 21 Jan. 1717-8, as a deed shows. His will names children as follows:

MACOMBER GENEALOGY

The work now published states all that can be learned about the Macomers in Devonshire, England, and a possible earlier origin in Scotland. It traces descendants, in the Macomber line, of John Macomber of Taunton, 1643, and of William Macomber of Marshfield, 1638. Something is said, also, about the Macomers of Nova Scotia. Many public records have been searched, in order to make the book complete and accurate. Although not every branch of the family has been traced fully down to the living generations, it is believed that with the aid of this book every Macomber, McComber, McOmber and MacComber, living in the United States, will be able to trace his lineage back to the first immigrant.

The fullest information is concerning the early generations and no space is wasted in flattering the living.

Particular effort has been made to trace Mayflower and Revolutionary ancestry, and most of the Macomers are fortunate in respect to such forebears.

The volume is well printed by the Lewiston Journal Company, Lewiston, Maine, and bound in cloth, with title on morocco. It contains 250 pages, fully indexed. The price is ($5) five dollars, on receipt of which it will be sent by mail to any address.

Those who purchased Part First of this work, by returning the same, can now have the completed work, Parts First and Second bound in cloth, for three dollars. That is, they paid two dollars then, and by adding three dollars now, they get the whole work for five dollars, as at first advertised. Send back Part First by mail with three dollars, or send five dollars, and the entire work will be sent you by mail. Send orders to the author,
